REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

THE Executive Committee, in presenting this, their Report for 1882, have to record their thankfulness to their Heavenly Father, that the great work begun in 1871 continues to prosper and bring forth good fruit. The pupils who have gone out into the world during the past year are, with very few exceptions, doing as well as, or even better, than their predecessors, and are thus proving that the Blind need only to receive the advantages of a thorough training, both mental and physical, to be able to compete in the world with their seeing brethren. To obtain this result, however, it is necessary that every department of the College should be as perfect as possible. No expense has been spared in securing the best teachers and professors; the large increase of numbers has necessitated corresponding increase of staff and changes in the playgrounds and gymnasia. These alterations and enlargements were absolutely necessary to carry on the work with efficiency; but the more complete the arrangements in such an institution are, the more a casual observer is inclined to suppose that it must be wealthy and not in urgent need of support. A glance at the balance sheet, however, will dispel this illusion. Beyond the extensive freehold and valuable College buildings, there is not a penny of invested capital; on the contrary, there is a mortgage debt of £12,000, which had to be contracted in order to secure the property, but the interest of which is a heavy burden on the resources of the College; and, although every endeavour has been made to diminish expenditure, there was a deficit on the year's operations of about £1,200. This, through the kindness of Dr. Armitage, has since been in great measure paid off, but its occurrence shows that the College is in reality a poor institution, and requires largely increased support to enable it to carry on its benevolent work.

Our best thanks are due to Messrs. Broadwood & Sons for their continued support and liberality; Miss Haughton for the gift of a very valuable harp; the British and Foreign Bible Society, and the British and Foreign Blind Association, for liberal grants of embossed books; the trustees of Dr. Williams's Library for valuable grants of books in ordinary type; William Auchincloss Arrol, Esq. and friends for a valuable collection of specimens carefully prepared for teaching purposes, of coal, iron, steel, glass, hemp and flax; Sir Peter Coats, Colonel H. A. Sanford, Messrs. Thomas Tapling & Co., and Messrs. Rylands & Co., for a variety of interesting specimens.

The chief events of the year have been that H.R.H. Princess Frederica of Hanover was good enough to honour the Christmas Festival of 1881-2 with her presence, and manifested great interest in the work.

H.R.H. the Princess Louise, Marchioness of Lorne, during her last visit to England, showed all her former interest in the work. Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen was pleased once again to command the presence of the pupils at Windsor Castle on June 25. The Queen was graciously pleased to express her sympathy with the efforts being made to promote the higher education of the Blind, and evinced her appreciation of the excellence of the performances of the pupils by commanding another piece after the programme had been completed.*

* For full account and programme see Appendix,

During the year the choir of the College has given effective assistance at meetings held for various religious and philanthropic objects. A select class of pupils gave a concert in St. Andrew's Hall, Glasgow, under the auspices of the Glasgow Scholarship Committee. One of the pupils also took part as a solo artist in the Orchestral Concerts of the Glasgow Choral Union. And by the kindness of Colonel and Mrs. Richardson Gardner, a most successful morning concert was given at their residence, of which the programme will be found with others in the Appendix.

An afternoon party was given by the Duke of Westminster at Grosvenor House, when the choir took part in the intervals between addresses delivered in explanation of the work done by the St. George's Committee of the Charity Organisation Society.

In November 1881 the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress, accompanied by the Sheriffs of London and Middlesex, paid their annual visit to the College. His lordship expressed great interest, and arranged for a meeting at the Mansion House in order to report the progress of the work to the citizens of London. This meeting was held on March 7, 1882, and was very fully attended. Effective speeches were delivered by the Lord Mayor, Sir R. Aleock, Mr. J. A. Campbell, M.P., Mr. Samuel Morley, M.P., Mr. F. D. Moeatta, Dr. Armitage, and others. Subsequently, at the suggestion of the Musical Deputation of the Corporation, the Lord Mayor and Corporation of the City of London granted the use of Guildhall for a grand vocal and instrumental Concert. Combined with the Prize Festival, this took place on July 1, when the Hall was filled to overflowing.* The Lady Mayoress most kindly presented the prizes, and Dr. Armitage, in the unavoidable absence of the President, the Duke of Westminster, gave the Diplomas to those pupils who were leaving, and the proceedings terminated with an eloquent address from the Rev. Canon Fleming, who spoke as follows :

I have been requested to say a few words to you on this interesting and touching occasion, where we have all had opportunity of judging for ourselves the nature of the Institution whose claims are now, by kind permission, urged in this historic place.

My only qualification for addressing you is that I have had the privilege—which I believe any of you may have if you will go there—of visiting this Institution; seeing it in its working dress; hearing lessons given on botany, geography, literature, mathematics, and mechanics; and as one long engaged in education myself, I will honestly admit that a better sample of school results I have seldom heard.

It is truly wonderful to hear those who cannot see a flower describe every part of the flower they hold in their hand; though it is quite a mistake to suppose that the blind do not appreciate beauty. I remember to have heard that on one occasion, when the President, the Duke of Westminster—who is absent from us to-day only on account of domestic sorrow—was looking at the splendid view from the windows of the college over Norwood, he exclaimed to Dr. Campbell, ‘It is terrible to think that you cannot see anything of this.’ And Dr. Campbell made one of his characteristic replies: ‘Your Grace is mistaken. I know every spot and every tree; and while you look at the beauties you see, my imagination pictures the scene with beauties you have never dreamed of.’

I must also add, as one who has spent more than thirty years in deep attention to the art of speaking and the art of reading, that I have seldom heard Shakespeare more intelligibly rendered than by pupils—male and female—in this School. It is a mistake to suppose, from the excellence of the music you have heard to-day, that this College is a conservatoire of music only, and that music is the main thing in it.

Its first aim is the harmonious development of the moral faculties in earnest Christian character, as exemplified by the two great commandments of love to God and love to man. And then its object is to give to the intellectual faculties an education, solid, extensive, well-balanced, and complete.

And along with these it pays great attention to physical training, which gives the blind not only health, but courage to overcome what to them would be otherwise impossible difficulties.

To this they add the culture of music, to the results of which you have listened to-day with a pleasure that has, I am sure, moved you almost to tears.

But if this was all—if the benefits of this College stayed here, it would be little ; unless we could point you to after-results in the future of those who go forth from its walls. And it is most satisfactory to be able to state that 80 per cent. or four-fifths of those who have passed through this complete course of training are now entirely self-sustaining and independent. Many of them do more than earn their own support ; they support others. They have been highly successful in Canada, Tasmania, Ceylon, as well as at home. One, who was a poor lad in Liverpool, has for several years been organist at Aldford, appointed by the Duke of Westminster.

I will not detain you at this hour with any lengthened speech. I have said enough as to the very solid work of this College and its results.

Let me close by reminding you of its claims and need. It is a national not a local Institution. And it is unique. It is devoted to the necessities of a class with whom we all sympathise.

Owing to the fact that our gracious Queen takes a tender interest in it, as also the Royal Family, who are forward in every good work, and such generous benefactors as the Duke of Westminster, it is generally supposed that it possesses unlimited means. But this is not so. It has not a penny of endowment.

The Subscription List is small, and there is a heavy mortgage of £12,000 on the freehold property. The interest on this mortgage is a heavy annual burden ; and I may add that the education given at the College is necessarily expensive. It must be so in the case of those who are heavily weighted with the total loss of sight from the very start to the finish.

It is only necessary in the City of London to bring before its rich and generous men a good cause and to show its need to secure their support. I trust that the City Companies, who distribute so largely to every good object, will, in the coming year, take into their consideration the work and needs of this College.

And I earnestly hope that the outcome of this meeting may be to devise a way in which many who cannot be with us to-day shall be reached, so that the echoes of the music to which we have listened to-day may reach far beyond these walls of the Guildhall.

We have lately all held a Grand Festival of Charity for the sick poor on Hospital Sunday ; and I suppose one of the secrets of its success was that those who had enjoyed unbroken health and untold mercies throughout the year, gave a thank-offering to help God's sick ones.

It will be a splendid result of this influential meeting if all who enjoy the blessings which attend uninjured sight shall give an annual thank-offering to Him, of whom it is written, ' God is light ' ; to help, in the practical and life-long methods I have named, God's blind ones—remembering that it is also written,

‘ GOD IS LOVE.’

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT.

---

THE College embraces a Preparatory School, a Grammar and High School, a Technical School, and an Academy of Music. The course of instruction * includes the following departments :—

1. General Education.
2. The Science and Practice of Music.
3. Training of Teachers.
4. Pianoforte Tuning.

In each department the instruction is directed to the practical end of preparing the blind for self-maintenance.

Since our last Report, owing to causes hereafter explained, the work of the College has been very much extended. The number of pupils has increased from 60 to 146, viz. :—Preparatory School, 30 ; Technical School, 30 ; College, 86. Total 146.

During the past year, by the liberal action of the Gardner Trustees, the College authorities have been able to perfect and carry out plans which had long been deferred for the want of means. In addition to the Scholarships established in the College proper, the Trustees granted :—I. £400 toward the outfit of the Preparatory School, and £500 annually in Scholarships, on the condition that the funds for the completion of the outfit and effective working of the school should be obtained. II. £500 toward the outfit of the Technical School, £600 in Scholarships for the first, and £500 for the second and third years, on condition that the sum required for the completion of the outfit and organisation should be obtained. III. £750 were lent without interest toward the outfit and purchase of musical instruments which were required for the increased number of pupils, admitted by the aid of the Gardner Scholarships. The Trustees have also advertised that an additional £800 will be given in Scholarships this year. The Scholarships are open to all young blind persons of a suitable age in England and Wales. Anyone wishing to become an applicant should apply before June 30, to H. J. Wilson, Esq., Secretary to the Gardner Trust, 1 Poets' Corner, Westminster. All applicants must undergo a thorough examination by the principal of the College, and upon receiving his report, the Trustees will determine the successful candidates.

As a rule, the Scholarships vary from £20 to £40 per annum. By this wise arrangement a much larger number can be assisted, than if the entire cost of the training of each pupil was covered by the Scholarship. Generally the benevolent in the various localities are willing to assist the parents of poor blind children to a certain extent, but often cannot provide the entire cost. The arrangement of the Gardner Scholarships meets this difficulty, and must be recognised by the friends of the blind throughout the country as just and reasonable.

The following tabulated statement gives the names of all pupils in the College who are at present assisted by the Gardner Trustees.*

* In all lists of pupils published by the College, the letters 'G.S.' will indicate the pupil is a Gardner Scholar.

It is very gratifying that some of the leading Institutions and Home Teaching Societies for the Blind are co-operating heartily with the Royal Normal College with a view of extending the higher education of the Blind.

The following deserve special mention :—

Bath Institution for the Blind, Deaf, and Dumb.

Dundee Institution for the Blind.

Glasgow Asylum for the Blind.

Hants and Isle of Wight Institution for the Blind, Southsea.

Henshaw's Blind Asylum, Manchester.

Home Teaching Societies of London, Croydon, Huddersfield, Northumberland and Durham, and Wolverhampton.

Indigent Blind Visiting Society.

London Society for teaching the Blind to read,
Upper Avenue Road.

Midland Institution for the Blind, Nottingham.

Out-door Mission for the Blind, Glasgow.

Sheffield Institution for the Blind.

I am pleased to state that several Boards of Guardians have recognized the fact, that it is cheaper, wiser, and more humane to help to educate their blind poor than to pauperize them. The most notable instance is the Board of Guardians of Nuneaton. After consulting the Local Government Board, they resolved to pay £30 per annum towards the education and maintenance of a blind youth in their charge.

GILCHRIST TRUSTEES.

A grant of £100 was made by the Gilchrist Trustees for books, apparatus, and appliances, and through the liberality of the Trustees and Dr. Carpenter, an arrangement was also made for a course of Lectures on Physiology by Dr. W. B. Carpenter. This was an encouragement far beyond the financial value of the appropriation. As Canon Barry nobly said in his eloquent address in behalf of the College, 'It is just this aid which is needed; for those who see it is enjoyed already. What this College asks is that this same aid shall be given to the blind who need it even more. The College needs above all a thorough understanding of its position and its aims, and a recognition by high authority of its value as a necessary part of the higher education of the country.' Canon Barry was right: we need money for books, apparatus, appliances, scholarships to aid the children of the poor, foundations for professorships and courses of lectures, but beyond even this, we need that the public should recognize the College not as an Asylum, but as a link in the National system of education. Thanks to Sir Ughtred Kay Shuttleworth and Dr. W. B. Carpenter, the Gilchrist Trustees have not only recognized, but acted upon this principle. The following letter in regard to the matter will be of interest:—

28 PRINCES GARDENS, S.W.

4th June, 1882.

My dear Sir,

Since my visit with Mr. Williams to you and your most interesting College, it has occurred to me that a grant might perhaps be made, to help your educational work, from a fund of which I am one of the Trustees—the Gilchrist Educational Trust.

At our last meeting I brought the case of your College under the notice of my co-Trustees, and the Secretary, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, supported me.

I am happy to inform you that I was authorized to communicate with you, and to propose at our next meeting some definite educational purpose for which we could properly and nsefully give a grant. If I am able to make a proposal which commends itself to the Trustees, I think they will be willing to give a grant of £100.

Some definite apparatus, or necessary supply of books, or other educational appliances, or some expenditure on the training of teachers of the blind would be quite satisfactory subjects of a grant, and within the limits of our powers.

Believe me,

Yours faithfully,

(Signed) UGHTRED KAY SHUTTLEWORTH.

LECTURES.

Our very best thanks are due to Sir George A. Macfarren, the Rev. J. Presland, J. R. Brooke, Esq., Mr. H. C. Banister, and Rev. J. G. Wood, M.A., for their valuable courses of lectures.

PROFESSORS AND TEACHERS.

During the present term, the work of our professors and teachers has been unusually arduous; we have received about 90 new pupils of all grades and conditions since October 1, 1882. But the untiring zeal and enthusiastic devotion to the work of our entire staff have been fully equal to the emergency, and they richly deserve our warmest thanks.

PHYSICAL TRAINING.

Many suppose that the Royal Normal College has received only the best and most talented pupils. The cause of the Blind demands that this error should be dissipated. While it is true that several of the provincial schools have sent up some of their most talented pupils to the College, it is equally true that many of our most successful pupils did not possess more than average ability. They were poor waifs when they entered the College, and came without previous training. It has generally required as much effort to overcome their habits of idleness and indolence, as to give them the training for their special avocations. As a rule, the vitality of the Blind is below the average vitality of seeing persons, and any system of education that does not recognize and overcome this defect will be a failure. The lack of physical power leads to indolence, timidity, and discouragement. The Blind must be roused from their willingness to depend upon others, and made to believe in the possibility of independence and success. 'The great difference between men, the feeble and the powerful, the great and the insignificant, is energy and invincible determination, a purpose once fixed and then death or victory. That quality will do anything that can be done in this world, and no talents, no circumstances, no opportunities will make a two-legged creature a man without it.' It is this lack of energy and invincible determination, not the want of sight, that has caused so many failures among the Blind. What will supply the motive power? In my long experience with the Blind, both of Great Britain and America, I have found nothing that will rouse the indolent, and encourage the timid, but physical training; it is the lever which gives force to all other education. We have distinguished lecturers, able professors, skilful masters and enthusiastic teachers, but without a thorough system of physical training, based upon a careful observance of the laws of hygiene, our percentage of practical success would be much less. Some of the most successful pupils that ever left Norwood came to us idle and indolent boys and girls without any fixed purpose. The struggle was long and sharp but they are to-day living examples of the principles we are advocating. Would that I could impress upon all who are interested in the Blind, not only in this country, but in Europe and America, the fact that a blind man who has received a mechanical training, general education, or even musical instruction without physical training, is like an engine provided with everything necessary except motive power. Even a well-ordered gymnasium and enthusiastic teachers are not sufficient; ample playgrounds, skilfully arranged and adapted to the requirements of the Blind are essential. If possible, swimming, rowing, and skating should be included. Thanks to the liberality of Dr. Armitage, we shall, during the present season, be provided with a large and well-arranged swimming bath suitable for summer and winter.

Our boys' gymnasium is being much enlarged, and plans and specifications are also being prepared for a new gymnasium for the girls.

CONCLUSION.

The cry which went up from the beggar's post at the gates of Jericho more than eighteen hundred years ago still vibrates upon the ears and moves the hearts of men. Charities have been created, asylums, homes, and schools have been established, but the Blind as a class are still floating helplessly down the stream of pauperism. The Charity Organization Society has unquestionably proved that to relieve distress by doles only increases pauperism, and it is equally clear that the defective classes can only be lifted into the rank of independent workers, by giving them a thorough and comprehensive education, fully equal to that given to the seeing who follow the same avocations.

The time has come when the education of the Blind ought to be placed on a broad national basis. Tens, even hundreds of thousands of pounds, are obtained for Colleges, Technical Schools, and a Royal College of Music ! Scholarships are multiplied even for the wealthy who have sight ! All honour to those who are doing so much for the cause of education. Shall less be done for the Blind ? Shall we not lift up the weak hands and strengthen the feeble knees ? Shall the weak call in vain upon British generosity ? The Blind plead for a thorough comprehensive education, which will give them strong bodies, well-disciplined minds, and courageous souls. Then, and not till then, will the Blind, as a class, become productive members of Society.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT.

Pupils of different ages and acquirements have hitherto been received at any time of the year, hence it has been impossible to arrange a systematic course of study. The establishment of the Preparatory School has overcome this difficulty, and has enabled us to restrict the admission of pupils to stated periods; and also to require, as a condition of admission, that they shall be able to undertake the studies of the first form.

The complete College course will require not less than six years, and will comprise a Regular, or Grammar and High School course of four years, and a Scientific, or Advanced course of two years. All pupils, except those who come for some special purpose, as pianoforte tuning, must take the four years' course, unless they can pass a satisfactory examination in all the English subjects. It is a well-established truth, that the blind who achieve the highest success in the profession of music, are those who have received the best physical and mental culture; therefore we recommend the musical students to take the entire course, even if it is necessary to extend the time to complete their professional studies. Musical students, especially vocalists, who cannot take the entire course, will have opportunities for studying modern languages.

In the Educational Department the instruction will be sufficient, and in many subjects more than is required, for the matriculation examination in the University of London, and in special cases the time may be extended with a view to the B.A. degree. In the Musical Department the instruction will be sufficient to prepare talented and industrious students for university degrees.

PREPARATORY SCHOOL.

The Preparatory School is conducted on the Kindergarten system. Fröbel's principle of self-work and self-help is far more essential in the training of blind than of seeing children. Special care is given to the moral, mental, and physical training of the children, and, as a foundation for all their future work, orderly habits, good manners, and upright conduct is inculcated.

Besides Kindergarten work the instruction includes Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, and Object Lessons in the elements of various subjects.

GRAMMAR AND HIGH SCHOOL.

Regular Course.First Form.

Scripture Lessons, Reading (2nd, 3rd, and 4th Royal Readers), Dictation, Spelling and Defining, Geography (Definitions, Physical, Mathematical, and Political, Hemisphere Maps), Mental Arithmetic (Colburn), Grammar (Orthography, Etymology: Morris and Campbell), Object Lessons, and Recitations.

Second Form.

Scripture Lessons, Geography of Palestine, Reading (Selections from Standard Authors), Dictation, Spelling and Defining, Geography (British Isles, Physical and Political), Mental Arithmetic (completed), Written Arithmetic (Four Simple Rules, Compound Numbers), Grammar (Syntax, Analysis: Daniel and Mason), English Biography, Outlines of English History, Recitations, Object Lessons in Natural History and Botany.

Third Form.

Scripture Lessons, Life of Christ, Geography (British Empire completed, Europe), Written Arithmetic (completed), Analysis, English Composition, Elocution, English History (History in Braille: Bright and Macaulay), Physiology, Latin, and French.

Fourth Form.

Scripture Lessons, Lives and Writings of the Apostles, Geography (America, Asia, Africa; Physical and Mathematical, reviewed and completed), Algebra, Geometry, Composition, Rhetoric, English History (1688 to present time), Outlines of General History, English Literature, Latin, French, German, and Italian (two selected, according to circumstances).

Advanced Course.Fifth Form.

Scripture Lessons, Bible History, Algebra, Geometry, Rhetoric, History (Grecian and Roman), Literature (Classical Authors), Physics, Geology, Latin, French, German, and Italian (two selected, according to circumstances).

Scripture Lessons, Bible History, History (Modern Europe), Literature (Modern Classics), Physics, Astronomy, Science of Government, Political Economy, Science of Language, Latin, French, German, and Italian (two selected, according to circumstances).

During the Advanced Course, lectures will be given on the following subjects: Science of Language, Prof. F. Max Müller, M.A.*; Science and History of Music, Rev. Sir Fred. A. Goro Ouseley, Bart., Prof. Macfarren, Mr. W. H. Cummings, and Mr. H. C. Banister; Political Economy, Mrs. Fawcett; Physiology and Hygiene, Wm. B. Carpenter, Esq., M.D.†; Natural History, Rev. J. G. Wood; Botany, Geology, Prof. J. W. Judd, F.R.S. (occasional Lectures); Astronomy, English Literature, Henry Morley, Esq., LL.D.; English Men of Letters, Rev. John Presland; Constitutional History of England, J. R. Brooke, Esq.; History —(a) Early Civilisations, (b) Grecian and Roman History, (c) Modern Europe, (d) English History from the Reformation to the present time, F. J. Camphell, Esq., LL.D.

Ladies and Gentlemen will be admitted by single or serial tickets, to any or all the Lectures.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

The musical instruction in its several branches of harmony, pianoforte, organ, and vocal culture, is addressed to the mind, and not merely to the ear. This is the only possible method by which musical training can be made of practical use to the blind.

For direct instruction in each branch we have an able professor, several assistants, practising monitors, and a music reader, which places our pupils on an equal footing with seeing pupils in other schools of music.

The indirect instruction is scarcely less important than the direct, and the latter is by no means complete without it. It is gained in the concerts and recitals, which familiarise the pupils with the best works of the great masters, and render their musical culture more comprehensive.

But we should specially mention the musical advantages of the Crystal Palace, where there are good musical performances every day, several symphonies each week, and an annual series of Saturday classical concerts unsurpassed by any in the kingdom.

Our very best thanks are due to the Crystal Palace Directors for the uniform kindness and consideration shown to our pupils.

* In regard to these Lectures, Professor Max Müller has carefully explained that they must depend upon the condition of his health.

† This course of Lectures has been established by the joint liberality of Dr. Carpenter and the Gilchrist Trustees.

Non-resident seeing pupils can receive instruction in this department. For all particulars, application should be made to the Principal before the beginning of each term.

THE TRAINING OF YOUNG CHILDREN.

As we have so many inquiries with regard to the best method of training young blind children, I take this opportunity to offer a few suggestions.

The blind are often injured, and their capacity much impaired some of them even ruined for life, through the ignorance and mistaken kindness of their friends during early childhood.

The following maxims will assist us :

1st. It is clearly obligatory upon all persons, whether sighted, blind, or deaf and dumb, to endeavour to make the best use of whatever powers God has given them.

2nd. It is the object of all true education to call into action the moral, mental, and physical faculties.

3rd. To develop a true and harmonious character, we must give careful attention to the smallest details.

4th. The education of blind children should commence as soon as they can understand that their actions please or displease those who love them.

Instead of being indulged, they should be subjected to a more careful and stricter discipline than other children. They should be taught how to dress, wash, and feed themselves. Many parents allow them to use their fingers at the table, or at best give them a spoon ; this is the greatest possible mistake. They will be spared much mortification during their whole life if they are early taught, in the most particular manner, how to use their knife and fork.

In those things in which they will naturally be awkward, let them have a few minutes every day for special instruction. They should never be allowed to make their blindness an excuse for inattention to the ordinary requirements of society.

The kind hearted mother will confer a blessing on her blind child by training it to be useful. It will be easier for her to go for her work-basket, newspaper, or book, than to direct the little one where to feel for them ; but let her persevere in this, and patience will have its reward.

When it has playthings, those only should be selected which will either require the exercise of thought or tend to develop dexterity in the use of the fingers.

Instead of lavishing upon the child sngarplms and sweet-meats, let him be entrusted with a box of simple tools; provide nails, tacks, and picces of wood, and encourage him to attempt to make little articles, such as boxes, toys, &c.; give him a shovel and spade, or if these cannot be had, a sharp stick, and when the weather is suitable, send him into the garden or yard to dig and play.

I have known a blind child who constructed mountain ranges, mud forts, cottages—in fact, a whole village, with a church, shops, and ordinary houses; even modelled men and women, invited them to a party, and treated them to mnd pies and cakes.

Blind children should not only be encouraged, bnt taught how to sow seeds and cultivate flowers. They should run, jump, turn somersaults, play leap-frog, and join in all games with their brothers and sisters—in fact, be encouraged in every kind of activity. If opportunities are favourable, climbing, running, swimming, rowing, skating, and many other athletic sports should be among their early accomplishments.

The perceptive faculties should be carefully cultivated. This may be done in various ways.

Interest the child, not only in the purchase of his own clothing, bnt also in that of other members of the family. When he has learned to distinguish between woollen, cotton, linen, and silk goods, he will very soon recognise the slightest difference in the quality of cloth and other articles. When a snit or dress has to be purchased, let him carefully examine various samples; tell him the price of each, and point ont their good and bad qualities.

When walking with them we should speak of everything we see, and, when convenient, place their hands npon whatever interests them.

Any object will do for a lesson—a fountain, a sign, a tree, a bird, a horse, beautiful fleecy clouds, the gathering storm, the returning sunshine, the springing grass, or the opening flowers; all will furnish topics for the most interesting stories to the little blind listener, who can only measure the length of his arm about him.

APPENDIX C.

RULES AND TERMS FOR THE ADMISSION OF PUPILS.

1. The College is open to the young of either sex and of any rank, but only those will be received as pupils who, in the opinion of the Principal, show sufficient ability to render it probable that by instruction they can be rendered capable of self-support.

2. As without previous trial it would in many cases be difficult to determine whether an applicant for admission has sufficient capacity for the kind of education given at the College, candidates will first be received as probationers for a period of three months or less. If, at the end of that period, they are found to possess adequate ability, they may become permanent pupils.

3. The expenses of maintaining a pupil at the College may either be defrayed by the parents or friends of the pupil, or he may be nominated to a 'Scholarship,' subscribed for by individuals, corporations, or local committees organised for the purpose, in any town or neighbourhood.

4. The annual charge for pupils up to 13 years of age is £50 per annum; and over 13 years of age, £60 per annum. The charge for children in the Preparatory School will be £35.

5. For private pupils the terms will, in each case, be matter of special arrangement.

6. The charges for resident pupils include board, lodging, washing, and medical attendance; but not clothing or travelling expenses. Payments in all cases must be made for each term in advance. All cheques and Post Office Orders, in payment for pupils, should be sent to the Principal at the College. Reductions in these terms are made for specially eligible destitute candidates, according to the funds at the disposal of the Committee.

7. It is suggested that in the case of pupils sent as free scholars the parties so sending them may require that an agreement shall be signed on behalf of the pupils that, in the event of their subsequently earning a sufficient sum to repay the whole or part of the cost of their education, they should do so by instalments, such repayments to go towards the formation of fresh scholarships. A double advantage would accrue to the Blind from this arrangement; namely, a feeling of independence on their own part would be encouraged, and a fund would be secured for continuing the benefits of the Institution to others.

8. The School year will be divided into three terms: The first term will begin on the first Thursday in October, and close on the 23rd December; the second term will begin on January 2nd, and close on March 31; the third term will begin on the 1st of April, and close on the first Thursday in August. The summer vacation will begin on the first Thursday in August, and close on the first Thursday in October. Except in cases of severe illness, the pupils are expected to be in attendance at the College on that day.

9. As a rule, pupils will only be admitted at the beginning of the October or Easter term. If possible, pupils should enter on the first Thursday in October. When this is not practicable, the first Tuesday after Easter.

10. As it is of the utmost importance to keep up home ties between pupils and their families, it is desirable that all pupils shall spend at least the summer vacation with their parents or friends.

11. The use of tobacco in all forms is strictly forbidden. All pupils, without regard to age, during their connection with the College, must abstain from the use of tobacco either on or off the College premises.

12. The use of beer, wine, &c., is only allowed when ordered by the medical authorities of the College.

13. All pupils must be provided with strong clothes, either new or in perfect repair, as in the lists which will be supplied at the College on application, and their parents or friends will be required to renew the clothing when deemed necessary by the Committee.

14. In all cases the following form must be filled up by a duly qualified medical practitioner. The questions are not, however, put with a view to exclusion, but for information regarding the pupils:—

- (a) Is the applicant totally blind, or, if only partially so, has he sufficient sight to enable him to follow any profitable employment?
- (b) What appears to have been the cause of blindness?
- (c) Has the applicant had the small-pox? Has he been vaccinated, and is there satisfactory evidence that the infection was complete?
- (d) Has he had the measles, whooping cough, or scarlet fever?
- (e) Has he been subject to epileptic fits?
- (f) Is he free from scrofula or cutaneous disease?

(Signed) _____

15. In cases in which the pupil is not entirely paid for by his or her friends, the following engagement must be signed by two respectable householders, independent of the parents, and witnessed by the clergyman of the parish, or a magistrate, or by a member of a Local Committee:—

We, the undersigned, do jointly and severally engage, as long as remains a pupil in the Royal Normal College and Academy of Music for the Blind, to keep him or her supplied with the stock of clothing required, as in the list furnished by the Committee; and, farther, to take and remove from the College during the vacations, or whenever required to do so by the Committee, and to pay all expenses of such removal, and, in case of death, all funeral expenses.

Dated this _____ day of _____ Signatures {

I hereby certify that I have witnessed the signatures of the above-named _____ and that the persons signing are respectable householders.

LIST OF CLOTHING.

FEMALE DEPARTMENT.

Lacing and tight-fitting dresses are prohibited. Parents are especially requested to attend to this requirement, as the health depends very much upon proper clothing. The skirts of the school dresses must be at least  $2\frac{1}{2}$  inches from the ground, to allow freedom in walking.

- 1 Sunday dress.
- 2 Week-day dresses.
- 1 Gymnastic suit (a sample of material and pattern will be furnished, or if preferred, purchased at wholesale prices and made).
- 1 White petticoat.
- 2 Coloured petticoats.
- 2 Flannel petticoats.

- 3 Undervests (flannel or merino, high-necked and long-sleeved).
- 4 Chemises.
- 4 Bodices (supplied with buttons for supporting the skirts).
- 4 Pairs of drawers.
- 3 Nightgowns.
- 12 Towels.
- 8 Pocket handkerchiefs.
- 6 Aprons.
- 4 Pairs of stockings.
- 1 Pair best boots.
- 2 Pairs strong boots.
- 1 Pair slippers or house boots.
- 2 Hats.
- 1 Sunday jacket.
- 1 Common ditto, or shawl.
- 1 Waterproof.
- 2 Pairs gloves.
- A sufficient quantity of neckties, collars, and cuffs.
- 1 Comb and brush.
- 1 Small toothed comb.
- 1 Nail brush.
- 1 Tooth brush.
- 2 Small bags for combs and brush.
- 1 Bag for soiled linen.

MALE DEPARTMENT.

- 1 Sunday suit.
- 2 Very strong week-day suits.
- 5 Shirts.
- 3 Night shirts.
- 6 Collars.
- 6 Pocket handkerchiefs.
- 5 Pairs dark worsted stockings.
- 1 Warm coat or cloak.
- 2 Hats or caps.

REGULATIONS FOR VISITING THE COLLEGE.

Subscribers and friends who may wish to visit the Institution can do so on application to the Principal at the College. Parents and friends can visit their children on the first Wednesday in each month, between 2 and 6 P.M. ; at other times only by special arrangement with the Principal.

The College is situated at Upper Norwood. The entrance is in Westow Street, near the Crystal Palace High Level Station. An outline Map showing the position of the College, and of the different Railway Stations in the neighbourhood, will be found on the next page.

INFORMATION FOR INTENDING CONTRIBUTORS.

Annual Subscriptions, Donations, and Legacies are earnestly requested, and will be thankfully received by the Hon. Treasurer and by the Principal at the College.

Cheques and Post Office Orders should be crossed, and may be drawn in favour of the Hon Treasurer, Sir Rutherford Alcock, K.C.B.; or the Principal, F. J. Campbell, Esq., Royal Normal College, Westow Street, Upper Norwood, S.E.

The Principal of the College will be happy to furnish further information, and to forward copies of this Report and various papers to all who may be willing to assist in bringing its claims under the notice of the Public.

FORM OF BEQUEST.

The following Form of Bequest is recommended to anyone who may feel disposed to assist the Institution by Will:—

‘I give and bequeath, out of such part of my personal estate as may lawfully be applied for that purpose, the sum of*

free of legacy duty, to the ROYAL NORMAL COLLEGE AND ACADEMY OF MUSIC FOR THE BLIND, situated at Upper Norwood, Surrey ; and the receipt of the Treasurer of the said Institution for the time being shall be a good discharge to my executors for the same.’

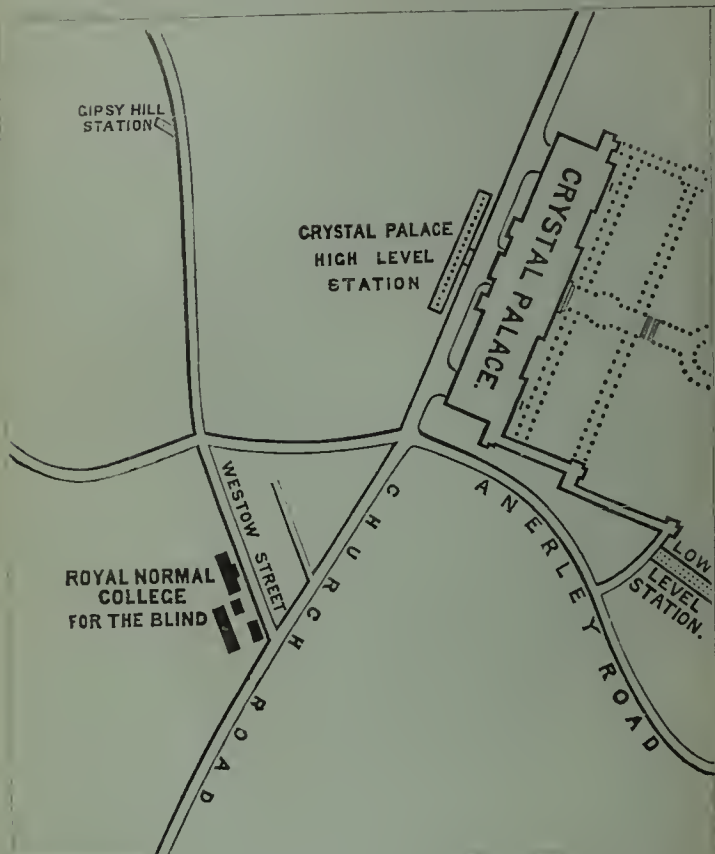

N.B.—Devises of land, or of money charged on land, or secured on mortgage of lands or tenements, or to be laid out in lands or tenements, or to arise from the sale of lands or tenements, are void ; but money or stock may be given by Will, if not directed to be laid out in land.

The Will or Codicil giving the Bequest must be signed by the Testator in the presence of two witnesses, who must subscribe their names in his presence, and in the presence of each other.

* The sum to be expressed in words at length.
